Jack Phillips Earns Registered Consulting Arborist Designation

Consulting Arborist, Jack Phillips, recently completed the rigorous requirements of the American Society of Consulting Arborists' Registered Consulting Arborist (RCA) designation. Phillips, a resident of Omaha, Nebraska, is the only registered consulting arborist working in Nebraska and Iowa. There are only 188 in the North America and Europe.

According to Phillips, "'My teacher and the father of modern arboriculture, Alex Shigo, was fond of saying: 'trees saw us coming, and trees will see us going.' Trees have made human life on earth possible and our future and quality of life depends on them. Preserving trees is my profession and my passion."

Registered Consulting Arborists are called upon for tree evaluations and surveys, damage assessment and appraisal, municipal and landscape planning and development, tree preservation, risk analysis and other situations requiring expert knowledge and experience in the arboricultural industry.
